

UNIVERSITY OF FERRARA

Department of Economics and Management

Lunch Seminars

Department of Economics and Management

---

ACCOUNTING HISTORY AND THEORISING ABOUT ORGANISATIONS

Garry Carnegie

Monday, 4 September, 11-13

Aula EC5 - Via Voltapaletto, 11
Dipartimento di Economia e Management

The Research Seminars are promoted and organized by

Leonzio Rizzo e Antonio Musolesi

Per informazioni: lunchseminar@unife.it

UNIVERSITY OF FERRARA

Department of Economics and Management

Garry Carnegie is a Professor of Accounting and Head, School of Accounting at RMIT University. Prior to joining academe, Professor Carnegie gained experience in the IT industry, professional accounting services, and in the financial services industry. Professor Carnegie has been employed in Australian higher education institutions since 1985 and, prior to joining RMIT University in 2010, he held full-time professorial posts at Deakin University, Melbourne University Private/The University of Melbourne, and at the University of Ballarat (now Federation University Australia). His published research appears in books and monographs as well as in articles in respected journals in the fields of accounting, accounting history, archaeology, economic history, companies and securities law, management history, museum management, and public administration. Professor Carnegie's research is focussed on governance and accountability in both contemporary and historical contexts. Between 1996 and 2007 he was the editor of Accounting History and, since 2008, he has been the journal's joint editor. Professor Carnegie was the Joint Convenor of the inaugural Accounting History International Conference and the Convenor of the 9th World Congress of Accounting Historians that were held in Melbourne in 1999 and 2002 respectively. He also convened the 8th Asia-Pacific Interdisciplinary Research in Accounting (APIRA) conference that was held at RMIT University, Melbourne in July 2016.